

TRAVEL DIRECTIONS

By plane

All international flights arrive at Brussels National Airport. At the airport there is an underground railway station. Between 5h24 and 23h46, at least 4 trains per hours leave to Brussels (about 10 min). Continue with a direct train Brussels-Ghent (about 35 min), which will stop at 'Gent Sint-Pietersstation'. Travel information: www.b-rail.be. Continue by public transport (see below) or by taxi.

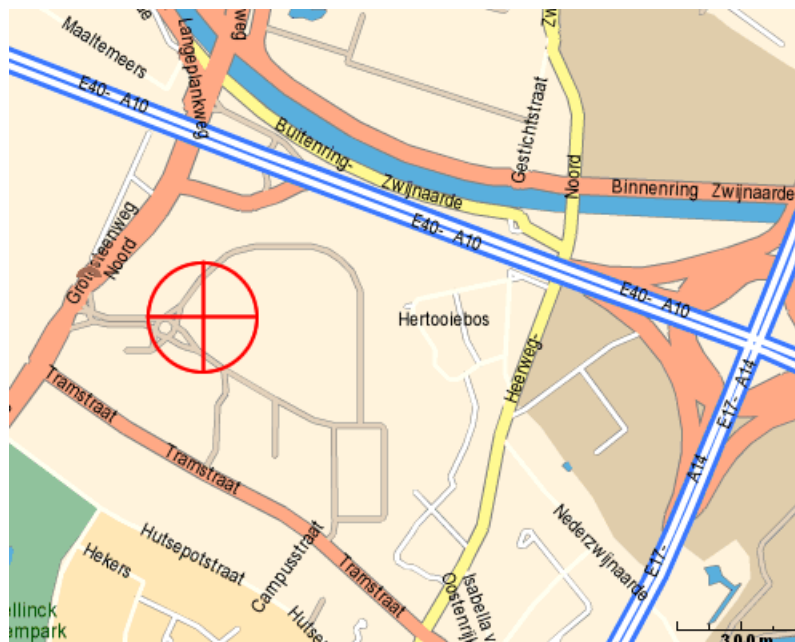

By car

Coming from Ghent centre:

At the rotunda 'Sterre' take the direction Oudenaarde. After crossing the bridge, take the exit 'Technologiepark' on the rotunda. In the 'Technologiepark', continue straight after a small rotunda and take the first turn right, building 904 'Laboratorium Magnel voor Betononderzoek'.

Coming from the direction Brussels/Ostend (E40) or Antwerp/Kortrijk (E17):

Ghent is at the intersection of the highways E17 and E40. The Magnel Laboratory for Concrete Research is best reached by taking exit no. 8 (Zevergem – N60) on the E17. This is the first exit after the intersection of the E17 with the E40 (in the direction of Kortrijk). Following, take the direction Ghent on the N60. Turn right half way the rotunda after the 4th traffic lights (exit 'Technologiepark').

By public transport

From downtown Ghent:

Take tram 1, 10, 11, 12 or 40 to the 'Sint-Pietersstation'. Continue by bus, lines 48/49 or 70/72 in the direction Zwijnaarde, Oudenaarde and take the bus stop 'Bollenbergen, Tramstraat, Technologiepark'. The bus trip takes about 10 min (each 15 minutes a bus connection is available). The bus 70/72 can also already be taken from the 'Zuid'. More information on the bus and tram lines: www.delijn.be.

From other locations:

Take the train (www.b-rail.be) or bus (www.delijn.be) till 'Gent St. Pieters'. Continue as described above.
