

Dr. Judit Beke-Martos, Visiting Foreign Researcher at the Legal History Institute of the University of Gent: May 15 - August 15, 2015

Dr. Beke-Martos is a Lecturer and Researcher at the University of Mannheim as well as the Assistant Director of the Law & Language Center at the Legal Faculty of the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena, Germany. She earned her J.D. and her PhD. in Law at the Eötvös Loránd University in Budapest and her LL.M. in US and Global Business Law at Suffolk University Law School in Boston, MA. Her research interests include comparative constitutional law and history as well as comparative legal history. She has published a book and several scholarly articles on various topics in English, German and Hungarian. For a complete list of her publications please visit: <https://uni-jena.academia.edu/JuditBekeMartos>

During her 3-month stay at the Legal History Institute of the University of Gent, Dr. Beke-Martos is working on certain questions of constitutional and legal history in an international setting during the 19th century. While in Gent, you can contact Dr. Beke-Martos at Judit.BekeMartos@UGent.be

Together with Dr. Frederik Dhondt, there will be a master class on questions of 19th century international and constitutional law on Thursday, June 25, 2015 at 2 pm to which all interested parties are invited.