INTRODUCTION

This videoconference aims to inform stakeholders in Flanders and Latin America about the research conducted between Ghent University and two Universities in Ecuador (one in the coast and one in the highland) which joint forces to reduce the double burden of malnutrition in Ecuador. The conference starts with a documental about the double burden of malnutrition in Ecuador (title: to eat or not to eat, that is the issue in Ecuador) and follows with a videoconference which presents a SWOT analysis of the problematic conducted by several researchers who are experts in the field of human nutrition and development research. Finally, there is a space open for questions from students, researchers public and private institutions.
