

The Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Ghent University, Belgium is looking for candidates for a rotating

“BOVINE INTERNSHIP”

organised by the Department of Reproduction, Internal Medicine and Population Medicine

The positions have focus on the ‘clinic for ruminants’

Start of the program: September 23^o, 2024

Duration: 1 year

Conditions for admission:

- Have a diploma of Veterinary Medicine
- Applications of final-year students will also be accepted
- At least basic knowledge of Dutch is required in order to be able to communicate with the clients.

The program fulfils the requirements to proceed to a residency for the European College of Bovine Health Management. The entire program description can be obtained at: www.ugent.be/di/en/education/internship

Applications can be sent to

- Prof. Dr. Bart Pardon, Tel: *32 9 264 7588, E-mail: Bart.Pardon@UGent.be

Department of Reproduction, Internal Medicine and Population Medicine, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Ghent University, Salisburylaan 133, 9820 Merelbeke, Belgium

All applications should be electronic and should be mailed before May 1th 2024.

The email should contain the following attachments (pdf):

- An application letter with a motivation for participation to the program.
- The Veterinary Medicine Diploma (except for final-year students)
- A curriculum vitae (CV) including picture, list of the results obtained in the different study years and the title of the thesis. The coordinates (name, phone and e-mail address) of 2 persons of reference should also be included in the CV.