

The Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Ghent University, Belgium is looking for candidates for a rotating

“BOVINE INTERNSHIP”

organised by the Departments of Internal Medicine, Reproduction and Population Medicine and Large Animal Surgery, Anaesthesia and Orthopaedics

The positions have focus on the ‘Clinic for Ruminants’

Start of the program: September 21<sup>o</sup>, 2026

Duration: 1 year

Conditions for application:

- Possess the diploma Master in Veterinary Medicine (preferably major ‘Ruminants’)
  - Applications of final-year students will also be accepted
- Proficient English speaking and writing knowledge is required. Basic knowledge of Dutch is an asset in order to be able to communicate with the clients in the clinic.

The program fulfils the requirements to proceed to a residency for the European College of Bovine Health Management and European College of Animal Reproduction. The entire program description can be obtained at: www.ugent.be/di/en/education/internship

Applications can be sent to

- Prof. Dr. Bart Pardon, Tel: *32 9 264 7588, E-mail: Bart.Pardon@UGent.be

Department of Internal Medicine, Reproduction and Population Medicine, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Ghent University, Salisburylaan 133, 9820 Merelbeke, Belgium

All applications should be electronic and should be emailed before April 1th 2026. The email should contain the following attachments (pdf):

- An application letter with a motivation for participation to the program.
- The Veterinary Medicine Diploma (except for final-year students)
- A curriculum vitae (CV) including photo, list of the results obtained in the different study years of the veterinary studies and the title of the master thesis. The contact details (name, phone and e-mail address) of 2 reference persons should be added to the CV.